Centex Opens Second Community in Murfreesboro

Rucker Landing offering quality single-family homes at an affordable price

Centex is expanding its offering of affordable homes in the greater Nashville area with the grand opening of Rucker Landing, a new community of single- and two-story home designs, each new to the market, on Saturday, February 26.

“We are so excited to grand open Rucker Landing and debut its five new open-concept and innovative floor plans for homebuyers in Murfreesboro,” said Melanie Hemingway, Vice President of Sales for PulteGroup’s Tennessee Division. “With affordability top of mind and an abundance of included features, Centex homes are popular with first-time homebuyers and young families, but we are also seeing heightened interest among move-down buyers and empty nesters who love the single-story home designs offered at this community.”

With homes sized from 1,775 – 2,706 sq. ft., featuring 4 – 5 bedrooms, 2 – 3 bathrooms and two-car garages, Rucker Landing is perfect for both growing families and empty nesters who want room for visiting family. The Ibis plan is a light-filled, single-story home with a well-equipped kitchen and spacious gathering area. The Osprey, Rosella, Starling and Whimbrel designs are all two-story homes, each perfectly designed with amenities including flex spaces, walk-in closets, large kitchens, and owners' suite. Pricing starts in the mid $300s.

Located just 30 minutes southeast of Nashville in Murfreesboro, Rucker Landing offers affordable new homes away from the bustle of Music City but near enough to conveniences that make everyday life easy. The community is close to Middle Tennessee State University and major employers such as the Amazon Fulfillment Center, as well as recreation centers including the 430-acre Barfield Crescent Park and the Murfreesboro Greenway System and its 12-miles of paved paths and 11 trail heads.

Families with school-aged children in Rucker Landing will attend the Rutherford County School District, with both Plainview Elementary and Christiana Middle School only five minutes away.

Interested buyers are welcome to visit the Rucker Landing sales center and tour its fully furnished model at 4409 Jack Faulk Street, Murfreesboro, TN 37127.

Buyers can also virtually view and tour the homes from any smartphone, tablet or computer.
