

🕒 31 July 2019, 09:18 (EDT)

SoundCloud Launches Mobile Profile Editing

Creators' top requested mobile feature rolls out on iOS app

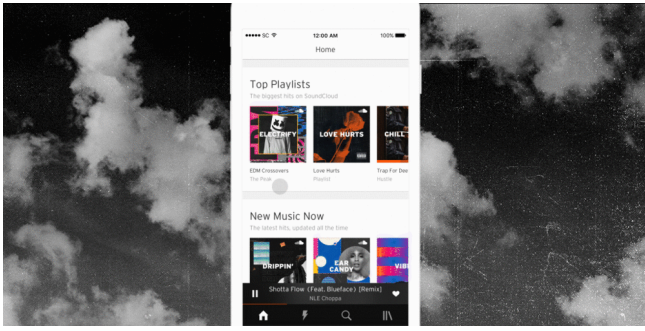

July 30, 2019, New York, NY -- SoundCloud today introduced mobile profile editing in the SoundCloud iOS app, providing creators with an easy and intuitive experience to keep their profiles up-to-date when they're on-the-go.

The profile is one of the primary tools SoundCloud creators use to showcase themselves and their sounds worldwide to collaborators, promoters, press, music managers, and to connect with their fans in real-time. Unlike other streaming platforms, SoundCloud gives creators maximum control of their profile, and now the ability to update from anywhere, anytime.

Whether they're on tour and want to list new dates, in the studio and want to link to new tracks, or refresh their profile imagery from an event they played, creators can simply tap a dedicated edit button at the top of their profile and change their imagery, location and bio details.

Mobile profile editing is the latest addition to the portfolio of tools and services SoundCloud provides to creators to build and grow their careers at every stage. And one more reason why creators start their journey first on SoundCloud.

Download the latest version of the SoundCloud mobile app on iOS to get started.

SoundCloud