Following up on her lauded debut track 'Destiny' and sophomore track 'The Truth' in 2021, Sole continues her palpable emergence with the release of a brand new single, "Not Feelin' It." produced by Sean Rogers (Shania Twain, Luke Bryan, Dierks Bentley).

Embracing an alt pop-punk type of sound, “Not Feelin’ It.” talks about creating personal boundaries for yourself based on what’s important to you. Co-written by the artist herself and Sebastian Garcia, aka Rufio Hooks (K-Pop band BTS), Sole’s voice projects a commanding and impassioned temperament that encourages everyone to stand firm when things feel out of alignment and that it’s totally okay to say no.

Then on June 3, it went live on all streaming platforms. Sole shares, “I am here to help through my music to encourage and empower people to fully be themselves, to be in the moment of what they are feeling, to be in their power, and to operate on a high level of awareness for what is right in the world and what is wrong. Time is now to be a force, show up, and be present in this world.”
