Recap Day 8 @ Mercedes-Benz FashionWeek Amsterdam

11 JULY 2015, AMSTERDAM

SUMMARY

Do you have a preference for futurism, ready to wear, artistic, luxurious, minimalistic or new talent? On the 8th day of Mercedes-Benz FashionWeek Amsterdam there was something for everybody.

Noir Near Future showed how futurism, a dash of the 40s and an unknown colour combination was a recipe for succes.

Followed by a presentation of ARMY OF ME's new ready to wear collection in the Gashouder. It was clear to see why ARMY OF ME gained such a huge following in the past six years.

Zyanya Keizer showedcased her designs during Vodafone Fashion LAB. Her collection breathed detail, the feminine body and art.

NIVEA Black & White Deodorant presents TONYCOHEN filled the Gashouder with creations by Tony Cohen. His use of luxurious materials in combination with a perfect finish made the collection shine.

The debut of the men's clothing line FUTURE took place during their first catwalk show hosted by Vodafone Fashion LAB PRO. A clean and minimalistic collection was presented.

During 'Lichting 2015 supported by V&D' Dutch talent was showcased. Seven fashion colleges each presented two of their best students during an inspiring catwalk show. Nikki Duijst, student of the Hoge School der Kunsten in The Hague, was crowned this year's winner.

Roest played host to 'Avondmarkt: Streetflavour' during Zalando presents 10 Days Downtown. This event showcased the best of the street in the form of street wear, street food and street art. One of the many highlights of the night was the amazing live fashion performance by designer Mirte van Wijngaarden.
