When Ticketmaster approached pr.co to build their online newsroom the team were honoured to take on the project- and proud with the results.

Fully branded and integrated with the company site, Ticketmaster's new online newsroom makes it easy for journalists to find brand information in seconds.

The focus for this newsroom was on Press Releases and Coverage; being a brand that processes over 500 million tickets per year in 30 countries, there was plenty of media information to put in one central hub.

pr.co look forward to working with the Ticketmaster team on future projects.
