TIME TO CATCH YOUR DRIFT

Get Confident. Go Further. Pay less.

Going further off road means you need the confidence your wheels won't let you down. You need the confidence that your wheels are built to last!

The DRIFT wheels have already proved to be up for the job, meet and exceed expectations on all kinds of gravel roads.

Bikepacker and Ultra distance rider Bas Rotgans:

"I certainly pushed the DRIFT wheels to their absolute limit. The trails I rode were suitable for a full-suspension bike, but I was extremely impressed with my equipment! I was just praying that no-one at FFWD would ever get to see what I was putting their wheels through. This was definitely not in their Intended Usage Description. I was worried that the wheels would be too stiff but the direct response and connection with the surface is spot-on!"

With the introduction of the new FFWD hubs we also introduce a bomb proof gravel set for just 1399 Euro.

The new FFWD TWO/ONE hubs get their name from the 2:1 spoke ratio. Wheels are built with double the amount of spokes on the critical side of the wheel. This ensures more stability and stiffness at the right place! It has a 36 teeth ratchet system, bigger bearings with improved sealings to make the hubs more durable. This is your confidence to take on the next adventure!

The new FFWD hubs will be available for Shimano, SRAM and Campagnolo (including N3W) and can be converted to quick release and 15mm thru axle with separate kits.

From middle of June the DRIFT will be available with the new hubs!
