

Renaissance Marquis Commemorates Veterans with 'Wall of Honor'

Rome, Ga. (Nov. 08, 2019) – Legacy Senior Living commemorates more than 100 veterans with a “Wall of Honor” at each of its senior living and memory care communities across the Southeast. Renaissance Marquis, a premier assisted living and memory care community in Rome, Ga., proudly displays several residents who are veterans on their Wall of Honor.

Each Wall of Honor features framed photos of residents, some also including their spouses, who have served in our nation’s armed forces, complete with placards sharing their name, branch of service and rank.

"For those who served our country, we are proud to showcase them with the Wall of Honor. These photos on the wall are in recognition of the sacrifice and service of these amazing men and women," said Barry Ray, CEO and co-founder of Legacy Senior Living.

"They are a generation that inspires us to be better individuals and to serve them well," said Bryan Cook, president and co-founder of Legacy Senior Living.

Renaissance Marquis honors each resident veteran with their Wall of Honor. It seeks to intentionally recognize those who fought in wars that have shaped our country and maintained our freedom.

"The purpose of the Wall of Honor is to be a welcoming and honoring focal point of our community for everyone who walks by it. When I see the photos on our Wall of Honor, I am reminded that respect and appreciation is extended not only to those men and women, but also to their families who supported them and sacrificed for us as well," said Renita Carnes, executive director of Renaissance Marquis.

Legacy Senior Living communities share the incredible stories of sacrifice of its residents and their spouses who served in World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War through the Wall of Honor.

"We treasure all our residents, but are especially thankful and blessed by those who served our country in the military and, in some cases, fought in battles for the freedoms we all enjoy today," said Ray.

Renaissance Marquis wants to express honor and respect for those veterans, and having the Wall of Honor is a way to show their families and all visitors their faithful service to our country.

The purpose of the Wall of Honor is to be a welcoming and honoring focal point of our community for everyone who walks by it. When I see the photos on our Wall of Honor, I am reminded that respect and appreciation is extended not only to those men and women, but also to their families who supported them and sacrificed for us as well.

— Renita Carnes, executive director of Renaissance Marquis

ABOUT RENAISSANCE MARQUIS - ROME, GA

Located on 11 beautiful acres across from Georgia Highlands College, Renaissance Marquis offers a full range of helpful services in a secure, attentive, homelike atmosphere to those looking for a senior living community or independent living in Rome, Ga. The assisted living, independent living and Alzheimer's memory care facilities are among the region's largest and most up-to-date.

Renaissance Marquis has set the standard for senior housing and retirement services in north Georgia. More information is available at (706) 295-0014 or www.renaissancemarquis.com.

Renaissance Marquis is part of a family of senior living communities throughout the Southeast owned and/or operated by Legacy Senior Living, of Cleveland, Tenn. Legacy Senior Living specializes in offering independent living, assisted living, and Alzheimer's care services. More information is available at legacysl.net.

Renaissance Marquis - Rome, GA