Great Sense of Optimism and Gratitude as Renaissance Marquis Senior Living Completes Round 2 of COVID-19 Vaccinations of Seniors, Team Members

Following the administration of the first round of vaccinations in mid-January, all residents and team members have been offered two doses of the COVID-19 vaccine.

ROME, Ga. (February 22, 2021) - Renaissance Marquis Senior Living, a premier senior living community in Rome, Georgia, has reached a major milestone in its efforts to protect its residents and team members from the COVID-19 virus after completing its second round of vaccinations earlier this month.

The senior living community began its vaccination campaign in January after significant planning to ensure it could secure sufficient quantities of the vaccine for all residents and team members who wished to participate.

The completion of the senior living community's vaccination campaign marks a step forward on its continued journey toward optimal health and wellness for its family of residents, who have displayed considerable mental and physical fortitude throughout the pandemic.

“Now that we've successfully completed the recommended two rounds of vaccinations, we feel an immense amount of relief and hope for the future. With this milestone reached, we're one step closer to defeating this silent enemy,” said Renita Carnes, Executive Director at Renaissance Marquis Senior Living.

In accordance with its mission to serve the Greatest Generation with honor, respect, faith and integrity, the senior living community will continue its efforts to provide an environment that enriches the physical, social, and spiritual health of its residents, providing activities ranging from Bible studies, to movie nights, to opportunities for exercise and movement.

“Throughout the pandemic, we've kept a pointed focus on the overall mental and physical health of our residents. Now that our Renaissance family is fully vaccinated, we plan to continue on that path and promote an environment of all-around wellness,” said Carnes.

Renaissance Marquis Senior Living will continue to follow all COVID-19 safety guidelines set forth by the CDC, continuing to wear KN95 masks, social distancing, and regular wellness checks for all residents and team members.
