

Keadyn leads 300K seed investment round in Monyq

Monyq is founded by Igor Kluin, who previously started Qurrent, an innovative renewable energy company,

The investment was made in collaboration with Minerva and Monyq management.

“The funds allow Monyq to further prepare and develop our products for the market launch later this year. Going live is our main focus right now and this helps us get there.” To date Monyq has raised around 400K euro (450K USD),

— Founder and CEO of Monyq Igor Kluin

About Monyq

Monyq wants to free people from outdated banking by offering a new, simple user interface for your money. “Our dream is to bypass banks;; to move beyond banking”. The company will launch a debit card and money app later this year. Monyq was founded by Igor Kluin, who previously founded Qurrent, an innovative re-newable energy company, and co-founded De Groene Zaak, a green business lobbygroup. Kluin runs Monyq together with co-founder Marc van Putten who is the company’s cfo.

About Keadyn

Keadyn is a Dutch-based seed/early stage venture investment company that provides hands-on operational involvement via its network of functional experts. Keadyn invests solely in tech-based startups. The Keadyn circle consists of experienced and successful entrepreneurs that bring along a large international network.

“We understand what it takes to be a founder and we understand the challenges startup entrepreneurs face. Our key differentiator to other investors is that we add value in all areas to the companies we are part of with hands-on involvement”.
