Finance App O<sub>2</sub> Money: comdirect uses finleap connect Microservices

Berlin, November 6th, 2020 - comdirect and the telecommunications service provider Telefonica O<sub>2</sub> jointly launched the financial app O<sub>2</sub> Money on October 29th, 2020. As a financial assistant, the app is available free of charge to all users - including non-customers of O<sub>2</sub>. finleap connect, technology and software provider in Europe's leading Fintech ecosystem finleap, provides a range of services for this offering, such as the function for linking third-party bank accounts, revenue categorization and contract recognition.

The functions enable users to keep track of their finances, i.e. all income and expenses, contracts and/or their available monthly budget. They can do so at any time, simply and securely on their smartphone. Frank Kebsch, CEO finleap connect, says, "We are very pleased that our services will enable us to create added value for customers in this forward-looking project of O<sub>2</sub> and comdirect. The desire for integrated financial solutions that provide customers with an intuitive offer in their own context is becoming increasingly important".

Christian Wendrock-Prechtel, Head of User Interface at comdirect, says, "With O<sub>2</sub> Money we have created an app with an outstanding user journey. The added value for the user was always in focus. As a digital companion, the app should ensure that the user enjoys having an overview of his or her finances. The app also offers a bonus program, as well as the free mobile banking services of O<sub>2</sub> Banking. The input of the linking of the accounts is completely intuitive and takes place in the familiar O<sub>2</sub>Design".
