Résumé Because the safety and the health of our loved ones are our priority, Weenect a new specialist in GPS family tracking, is launching a new device dedicated to the elderly. Focus on Weenect Silver!

Détails How does it work ?

The Weenect Silver incorporates a GPS chip and a SIM card that allows users to locate the device through a Smartphone.

Downloadable on Google Play or the App Store, the application Weenect – GPS tracker for the family, allows oneself to set up an alert indicating the entry or exit of a person in a delimited zone. With no distance limitation or restriction, it is possible to define the parameters for an unlimited number of places: house, friends, neighbours...

Design, useful & small

- With its 6cm height and 55g weight, the device can easily slip in a pocket or a bag
- The protection bag guarantees water and impact resistance
- The microphone and loudspeaker allow you to communicate with loved ones and inform them of dangerous situations with the SOS button.
- With a 4 days battery life in intensive use (position sent every minutes), the device will give users an automatic notification in alert mode when the battery is low.
- The function “geo fence out” informs loved ones through the Smartphone application.

The advantage: it is also possible to send recorded messages (i'm okay..., please help me...)

Perfect for people suffering from Alzheimer's disease.

« The assistance of ill persons suffering from Alzheimer's disease is never easy and it is most of the time necessary to equip them with a GPS tracker. Those designed for the geo localisation of Alzheimer's people are mostly archaic, visible and close to prisoner bracelet. With Weenect Silver we have wanted to play down the device and thus, obtain a better follow-up care acceptance of the person. » explains Adrien Harmel at Weenect.

*In order to have at your disposal the application and activate the device, a top-up is necessary with 1 free month offered. (30 euros for 6 months or
