STANARDSVILLE, Va. (February 13, 2017) – Amber Ralls has been named the interim executive director of Renaissance Assisted Living and The Harbor at Renaissance, premier senior living communities serving the Charlottesville, Va., area.

STANARDSVILLE, Va. (February 13, 2017) – Amber Ralls has been named the interim executive director of Renaissance Assisted Living and The Harbor at Renaissance, premier senior living communities serving the Charlottesville, Va., area.

Ralls is no stranger to Renaissance Assisted Living and The Harbor at Renaissance. She previously served as the assistant administrator of Grace Retirement, sister community to Renaissance and The Harbor. Prior to her position at Grace, Ralls served as the marketing director of Renaissance Assisted Living and The Harbor Memory Care, where she oversaw the marketing efforts for both facilities.

“I started in a healthcare marketing position in 2013 and quickly realized I had found my calling. I love working with seniors and their families because I believe there is no job more rewarding. Very few jobs have customers tell you that they love you, and it’s so easy to say that the feeling is mutual,” Ralls said.

“We are very excited to have Amber in this position as the interim executive director at Renaissance Assisted Living and The Harbor. We are confident that the residents and team members are in great care under her knowledgeable leadership,” said Bryan Cook, COO of Legacy Senior Living, management company of Renaissance Assisted Living and The Harbor at Renaissance.

“My hope for Renaissance and The Harbor is that every resident and family member knows that I will care for their loved one as I would care for my own. I will continually live by the Renaissance mission, ‘to serve the greatest generation with honor, respect, faith and integrity,’ ” Ralls said.
