

adidas Golf Releases Styles for Dustin Johnson and Sergio Garcia at the PGA Championship

Dustin Johnson and Sergio Garcia are heading back to the PGA Championship next week, where both players bring four career top-10 finishes to the season's final major.

adidas is preparing the world No. 1 and this year's Masters Champion to be 'Geared For More' as they tee it up at Quail Hollow, where both players will be sporting some products from adidas' fall-winter 2017 line.

Dustin is looking to finish the season strong as he heads into the final major of the year and into the playoffs. His look next week will infuse gray and black colorways with a subtle pop of yellow over the weekend. In addition to the climachill™ tonal stripe polo, Dustin will also be showcasing new styles of the 3-Stripes heather block polo that are part of adidas' fall-winter 2017 line. As he has done all year, he'll turn to the ultimate 3-Stripes pant, relying on the moisture-wicking stretch fabrication that provides full range of motion during the swing as he bombs drives down the fairway. His go-to shoe – the TOUR360 BOOST – will get him around the course.

Sergio's best finish at Quail Hollow came at the 2005 Wachovia Championship where he narrowly missed winning the tournament in a playoff. He's looking to do one better this year. Now that he's a major winner, he's looking to add to his resume. Sergio will be wearing bold pieces from adidas' fall-winter 2017 line, specifically the asymmetrical stripe and climachill™ pixel print polos that will feature subtle pops of yellow over the weekend. He'll pair the polos with the ultimate 3-Stripes pant in gray and black colorways, and will once again turn to the lightweight and stable Powerband BOA® BOOST as he makes his way from tee to green.

With the backdrop of the year's final major, it's a perfect time to showcase pieces in our fall-winter range. The colors and product designs compliment Sergio and DJ's distinct personalities, but with all the performance each of them need to get through the tough conditions. Cooling fabrics and stretch yarns help them overcome the environment to focus on their games and bringing home the title.
