

GRINDURO Scotland: A new kind of bike race.

15 June 2017

A 60-mile loop over a mix of gravel roads, singletrack, and pavement, on the Arran island! GRINDURO may look quite similar to "Gravel Grinder" or "Mountain enduro bike style"; a long loop of pavement and dirt, where finishing times are not based on the overall loop time, but four segments.

But Grinduro is not just a bike race. It is a celebration of cycling with as much emphasis on the party as the race, with excellent food, an impressive art exhibition and incredible handmade bicycles, live music, free camping and a festival atmosphere.

The race features a mix of smooth surfaces, smooth gravel and rough dirt with punchy climbs, a long valley and world class descents.

With spectacular scenery and a friendly pace, you will not be in a hurry to find the finish line!
