The Speedvagen Fitting Tours give us a chance to meet new friends, ride great roads, and share our bikes with those of you who have mostly seen them through the web.

The Speedvagen philosophy on fit

There are a lot of fitting options out there and the trend is toward the upright and conservative fit. Speedvagen strongly feels that their bikes should ride like great race machines, therefore their customers need to be properly balanced on the bike and in a position where back and stomach muscles are supporting the weight of their upper body, their arms are freed up to move with the bike/soak up shock and the muscles in the lower body are activated, firing and fast. This philosophy on fitting people is different than anything else out there. That's why Speedvagen is traveling the world to make this happen.
