

The SICURO Titanium Cage from SILCA

Aerospace materials and construction with versatile mounting solution

The SICURO Titanium is the classic Ti bottle cage re-engineered with an eye for the details that you've come to expect from SILCA. Each cage is hand-made at SILCA's Indianapolis headquarters using custom manufacturing processes and a state of the art laser welder, the first of its kind in the bicycle industry.

Made from ultra-lightweight aerospace-grade titanium tubing, these cages also feature unique oval-shaped eyelets which allow fore/aft adjustability to account for differences in mounting locations from frame to frame, enabling riders to place cages precisely where they want them.

Why create bottle cages using premium materials and aerospace technology? SICURO Ti cages are part of the Ultimate product line with the Shield Warranty; which means SILCA guarantees they'll last for twenty-five years. They are confident the 3-2.5 Titanium and precise laser welds will endure. After the bending and welding process, each cage is then polished by hand, sealed and finally stamped with the SILCA shield on the base plate before being packaged and shipped.

ABOUT SILCA
