

🕒 17 June 2019, 15:03 (MDT)

deverus CTO, Bryan Mishkin Receives Top 50 Technology Leaders Award at the Internet Conference.

Austin, Texas June 17th, 2019--deverus is excited to announce that its CTO, Bryan Mishkin will be awarded as one of the top 50 technology leaders at the Internet Conference in Las Vegas on June 18th 2019 where he will deliver a keynote on Chatbots and E-Commerce.

InterCon brings together some of the biggest and brightest speakers to present a snapshot of the most transformative ideas shaping the future of internet technologies. These influential speakers comprise of industry leaders, visionaries, pioneers, disruptors and come from a wide range of backgrounds including AI, ML, Blockchain, Cloud and more.

“Bryan is a dynamic, versatile, business focused technology executive with broad industry experience driving products from concept to customer. He envisions products that leverage technology in ways that enrich and add value for the end user, while driving value for the business. ,” said Shawn Rucks CEO of deverus. “Thanks to his leadership in driving deverus vision forward from a technology perspective, we are by far the most innovative platform provider in the industry. We are proud that he's received this well deserved award and recognition from InterCon.”

ABOUT DEVERUS

Established in 1998, privately-held Austin-based deverus, Inc., helps companies in the background screening industry work better, faster and smarter by providing the highest quality software, SAAS cloud-based solutions, mobile applications, integrations, compliance, automation, security, privacy and customer support services available. Deriving its name from a blend of Latin and Spanish meaning “from the truth,” deverus helps HR departments make critical hiring decisions using data such as criminal records, education and employment verifications, drug and assessment testing, and more. The company delivers its services to over 35,000 businesses, hiring more than 2.5 million employees per year, through more than 75 trusted partners. deverus is a founding member of the National Association of Professional Background Screeners (NAPBS) the respected screening professionals industry watchdog, and was named a “Best Place to Work” by the Austin Business Journal.

 pr.co

deverus

deverus