deverus Creates the Most Comprehensive National Criminal Search in the Background Check Industry

July 1st 2019, Austin, TX-deverus, the leading platform provider of background check technology, today announced the launch of its newest innovative product, Maximus, the most comprehensive national criminal search solution on the market. deverus has combined four of the leading data providers in its new Maximus product to ensure deverus users get the maximum amount of national coverage for instant databases.

The problem with a single national criminal provider is there's always a gap in coverage. The truth is one provider has information in certain jurisdictions but is unable to procure data in others. To solve this problem deverus has combined the four leading data providers including Innovative, Data Divers, Themis, formally Experian, and Cleara to provide you with the most comprehensive data source ever compiled into one search.

In fact, leading CRAs understand the incredible coverage and marketing opportunity this kind of search has to offer and they've been trying to do it, but we beat them to it! We call it Maximus.

“Although criminal database partners have made amazing leaps in technology and coverage, unfortunately, no single provider covers all sources. But by combining them into one search, we are proud to have created the most comprehensive search available.” said deverus CEO, Shawn Rucks.

Using Maximus, CRAs on the deverus platform will be able to configure these four providers with different filters and parameters into an all-in-one, powerful national search unmatched in the industry. This will give them a competitive advantage over all other CRAs not using the deverus platform. In addition, we have made the cost of Maximus comparable to what most CRAs pay for a single provider.
