

Our motivation

GIVE.asia team believes that it is our responsibility to do what we can to promoting oneness amongst humanity. That's why we started GIVE.asia and we continue to work on it to grow it even bigger. Our mission at GIVE.asia has always been to make giving and seeking help better for everyone. We believe there is a giver inside all of us. So by making the process of giving easy, fun and simple, we are able to make giving a part of people's lifestyle.

We believe in the generosity and compassion that is within all of us for our fellow human beings. So we are always inspired when we see the community of givers rallying to support fellow human beings. It is inspiring for our team at GIVE.asia to see people helping each other out through our website which continues to inspire us to keep making the process of giving and seeking help better for everyone.
