At Bell, we pride ourselves for being one of the leading aircraft providers for law enforcement agencies around the world including, New York Police Department, CDMX in Mexico City, Puerto Rico Police Department, Pennsylvania State Police and the San Diego Sheriff's Department.

Currently, there are more than 920 Bell law enforcement configured aircraft operating to protect and serve the safety of citizens.

I am very proud of Bell and very proud to be in Bell helicopters. Bell serves an integral part in our mission and I'm glad a company like Bell doesn't forget its mission to support first responders.

— Captain DeRienzo, Chief Pilot, Collier County Sheriff's Department

With the recent introduction of the modern Bell 505 Jet Ranger X, “We’ve seen incredible interest for the Bell 505 from law enforcement agencies around the world,” said Anthony Moreland, managing director, North America.

Earlier this year, Bell announced the sale of the first law enforcement configured Bell 505 to Sacramento Police department.

“The enhanced visibility, maneuverability and advanced avionics of the Bell 505 make it the choice aircraft for our operations” said, Greg Brown, Sergeant, Sacramento Police Department’s Air Operations Unit. “The Bell 505 will be invaluable in reducing man hours spent as well as response times in critical routine calls of service.”

ABOUT BELL

Thinking above and beyond is what we do. For more than 80 years, we’ve been reimagining the experience of flight – and where it can take us.

We are pioneers. We were the first to break the sound barrier and to certify a commercial helicopter. We were aboard NASA's first lunar mission and brought advanced tiltrotor systems to market. Today, we're defining the future of on-demand mobility.

Headquartered in Fort Worth, Texas – as a wholly-owned subsidiary of Textron Inc., – we have strategic locations around the globe. And with nearly one quarter of our workforce having served, helping our military achieve their missions is a passion of ours.

Above all, our breakthrough innovations deliver exceptional experiences to our customers. Efficiently. Reliably. And always, with safety at the forefront.
