

Dolby and Kinopolis to Bring First Dolby Cinema to Germany

SAN FRANCISCO and MUNICH, Germany, June 13, 2018 -- Dolby Laboratories, Inc. (NYSE:DLB) and Kinopolis have entered into an agreement for the first deployment of Dolby Cinema in Germany. The initial site is expected to open later in 2018 at the renowned Mathäser Palast in Munich. Kinopolis is the first company to bring Dolby Cinema to Germany.

The Dolby Vision laser projection system delivers high dynamic range with enhanced color technology and a contrast ratio which far exceeds anything on the market today. The result is a dramatically different viewing experience that presents strikingly vivid and realistic images, making viewers feel like they are inside the movie's world.

With Dolby Atmos, guests are transported inside the story with immersive sound that flows all around them, even overhead, creating breathtaking realism and a powerfully moving experience.

With Dolby's inspired design, the Dolby Cinema at Mathäser will provide customers with the ideal cinema environment from the theatre entrance to the end of the movie story.

Doug Darrow from Dolby said, "We are excited to announce our first theatre in Germany and delighted that it will be at such a prestigious location. Customers in Germany will now be able to experience the ultimate cinema presentation for all genres of film."

Dr. Gregory Theile from Kinopolis added, "We are committed to bringing our customers the very best in cinema and are really looking forward to offering Dolby Cinema – a much more dramatic and immersive film viewing experience for cinema goers. We are really proud to be the first location in Germany to be offering film lovers this latest state-of-the-art film experience."
