

🕒 16 May 2019, 15:47 (PDT)

Dolby Soho Celebrates the Opening of the Wu-Tang "Wu-Seum"

New York, May 16, 2019 - Last night, Nas and DJ Khaled stopped by Dolby Soho to celebrate the opening of the Wu-Tang "Wu-Seum," a limited-run exhibit celebrating the Showtime documentary series Wu-Tang Clan: Of Mics and Men.

The immersive Wu-Tang Clan tribute exhibit celebrates the groundbreaking Showtime docuseries series, Wu-Tang Clan: Of Mics and Men, timed to the group's 25th anniversary of its breakout debut album "Enter The Wu-Tang (36 Chambers)." The "Wu-Seum" will feature experiential installations highlighting their fascinating journey from the projects to international superstardom.

Dolby Soho is a newly opened space where science meets art and technology meets imagination. The “Wu-Seum” at Dolby Soho is the only place fans can experience interactive Wu-Tang Clan music and clips from the Showtime docuseries mastered in Dolby technologies. There will also be areas themed to pivotal moments in the Wu-TangClan’s story, such as RZA’s basement (where the group first formed) and a tribute to the late Wu-Tang member, Ol’ Dirty Bastard. The “Wu-Seum” is open to the public for free through from Thursday, May 16 through Sunday, May 19th from 1pm-8pm.

DJ Khaled with Vince Voron, Dolby Laboratories Vice President and Executive Creative Director.

Nas with Vince Voron, Dolby Laboratories Vice President and Executive Creative Director.

---

DD DOLBY.