The best noise cancelling earbuds under 200 euros

Great noise cancelling has long been the preserve of the priciest earbuds. Not anymore.

The JBL Live 4 range brings powerful True Adaptive Noise Cancelling 2.0 technology and impressive sound quality, all for below 200 euros. And with 3 variations -

JBL Live Buds 4, Live Beam 4, and Live Flex 4 - you can find the best fit for you.

Flagship noise cancelling performance

With tech from JBL's flagship headphones, the JBL Live 4 earbuds feature powerful

True Adaptive Noise Cancelling 2.0. It continuously monitors your surroundings and adjusts the level of noise cancellation for real-time calibration. You can also manually adjust the level of noise cancellation in the JBL Headphone app or through the Smart Charging Case™ to give custom control over how much or how little of the outside world you let in. Whether you're trying to relax on a commute, focus on studies, work in a noisy environment or enjoy your music at home without background distractions, JBL has you covered.

JBL Live 4 earbuds: pocket-sized noise cancellation

JBL Live 4 earbuds cost €199.99 and combine True Adaptive Noise Cancelling 2.0 with JBL Signature Sound, Hi-Res Audio and a redesigned Smart Charging Case™.

They're made for people who value the freedom and portability of true wireless earbuds combined with serious noise cancelling, with features including:

- True Adaptive Noise Cancelling 2.0 with real-time calibration
- Up to 40 hours of playtime with the charging case when ANC is off
- Up to 8 hours of playback with ANC on
- Six-microphone Perfect Calls 2.0 for clearer calls
- IP55 water and dust resistance
- Wireless charging and USB-C speed charging
- Multipoint connection for switching between compatible devices

JBL Live 4 is available in Buds, Beam and Flex to fit any ear shape. Buds is an in-ear design with a silicone tip; Beam is an in-ear, stem design with ear tips for a sealed fit, while Flex is a stem design that sits in the outer ear for a more open, relaxed fit.
