Experience stunning sound and simple set-up with the Harman Kardon Surround

The first full 5.1 wireless surround sound system, Harman Kardon Surround is available now

IFA 2019, BERLIN - Harman Kardon Surround has been designed with your viewing and listening habits in mind. With the rise of streaming movies and music, and moving away from DVDs, the built in Chromecast function provides access to all popular streaming services. This complete system combines Harman Kardon's renowned audio quality with timeless design and smart technology. Experience the luxury of a movie theatre at home without all the hassle of wires. Choosing what snacks to enjoy will be the hardest thing.

Set up has never been so simple. The set of pre-configured speakers consists of six speakers, an AV receiver and seven cords, with clearly labelled packaging, it's really as easy as 1,2,3. Connect the power cords, put the speakers in the right spot of your home, download the Google Home app to connect the system to Wi-Fi and your home cinema is ready. Built-in WiSA modules take care of the communication between speakers, ensuring a non-audible delay.

The Surround is designed in a typical Harman Kardon design, with premium, dark grey aluminium material and Harman Kardon signature elements such as the perforated speaker grill pattern.

The total combined system power of the system is 370W, so you'll fully be transported whether action or rom com is your style.
