

PROFILE DESIGN LAUNCHES ZWIFT RIDE SUPERSONIC AEROBAR - THE FIRST DEDICATED AERO BAR SETUP FOR ZWIFT RIDE

Integrated Zwift Click mounts and slim Zwift Ride tray unlock new potential on the Zwift Ride

Profile Design has today announced their new Zwift Ride Supersonic Aerobar, a complete aero cockpit designed for adjustability, comfort, and seamless Zwift control.

The Profile Design Zwift Ride Supersonic Aerobar unlocks new potential for the Zwift Ride, allowing those seeking an aero position to level up their indoor training. Key to unlocking this new potential is a newly designed and integrated Zwift Tray, developed in partnership with Zwift, that provides the space needed to attach the aerobars, enabling Zwifters to achieve a more precise fit.

The Zwift Ride Supersonic Aerobar features an ergonomic ski-bend design and ample adjustment for both the extensions and the Ergo+ armrest pads. The bars also feature anti-slip grips and integrated Zwift Click controller mounts, giving riders complete control of their Zwift experience from the aero position, including shifting, steering and in-game navigation.

The Profile Design Zwift Ride Supersonic Aerobar will retail for $275 / £220 / €245, with pre-orders open via <https://profile-design.com/products/super-zwift-aerobar-and-tray>

Profile Design will be showing the new cockpit setup at the IRONMAN World Championships in Kailua-Kona.
