Cessna Citation Mustang Owners Become Part of the Design Team

Long-time customers David and Patty Miller love their Cessna Citation Mustang, but it was time for an interior refresh and other upgrades. When they were ready to take the leap, they knew exactly where to take it for a makeover.

"Who better to do this kind of refresh than the people who made the airplane? Textron Aviation."

— David Miller, Citation Owner & Pilot

Patty and David selected upgrades for the entire aircraft, including a new interior, Garmin's latest avionic technology, and a custom designed paint scheme.

"The detail and the service during the process was absolutely incredible," said David. "We became part of the design team. Our Mustang is 11 years old, but to look at the airplane, you would never know it. It looks absolutely brand new."
