

CELEBRATING AMT DAY: THE TEXTRON AVIATION TEAM THAT KEEPS YOU FLYING

▲ Celebrating AMT Day: The Textron Aviation team that keeps you flying

Aircraft Maintenance Technicians (AMT) are at the heart of Textron Aviation. From service centers to defense, manufacturing, experimental, TRU Simulation and Able Aerospace teams, they keep our aircraft moving forward and push innovation every day. This National Aviation Maintenance Technician Day, we're proud to celebrate the people behind our Cessna, Beechcraft and Hawker aircraft.

▲ Our Aircraft Maintenance Technicians play a critical role across Textron Aviation — from service centers to defense, manufacturing and experimental — keeping aircraft moving and innovating every step of the way

Every flight begins long before an aircraft leaves the ground, shaped by the skill, precision and craftsmanship of AMTs. From A&P mechanics to avionics, paint and aircraft technicians, these teams create, enhance and fine tune every detail to deliver the best aviation experience for our customers.

When people join Textron Aviation, they join the best in the business. Textron Aviation is currently hiring A&P professionals worldwide and is always looking for talented individuals across the organization.
