

LYNK & CO INTRODUCES MODEL YEAR 2027 UPDATE FOR THE 02

Lynk & Co is introducing the Model Year 2027 (MY27) update for the Lynk & Co 02, bringing a series of targeted enhancements based on customer feedback and everyday usage.

Gothenburg, June 11, 2026 -The update focuses on improving comfort, usability and in-car experience, while maintaining the core design and performance of the model. It is part of Lynk & Co's continued expansion across Europe and ongoing refinement of its product offering.

What's new in MY27:

- A new "Onyx Black" exterior colour option adds a sleek and sophisticated look to the line-up
- Interior updates include elevated microfiber finishes on the dashboard and door panels, enhancing overall comfort and perceived quality
- A redesigned centre console improves storage space and usability in daily driving

- Distinctive yellow seat belts reinforce the car's bold character
- Faster system boot-up enables near-instant readiness when entering the vehicle
- Personalised driver settings allow for a more tailored experience from the start
- The "Hey Honk" feature introduces a more playful interaction with the car
- Game Link enables casting of games to the central display when parked

Smarter, Bolder, More Connected: Lynk & Co 02 MY27

The Lynk & Co 02 MY27 builds on what drivers already appreciate. The latest model year introduces enhanced comfort, faster and more responsive software, and new connected features, all within a refined design update.

On the outside, a new black exterior colour "Onyx Black" joins the lineup, adding a sleek and timeless expression that strengthens the 02's confident road presence.

Inside, the cabin takes a step up in both comfort and character. Elevated microfiber details on the dashboard and doors create a more refined and welcoming environment, while an improved centre console design offers smarter storage solutions for everyday use. Distinctive yellow seat belts add a bold visual accent, reinforcing the Lynk & Co 02's unique identity.

The MY27 update also brings a smoother digital experience. Faster system boot-up ensures the car is ready to drive almost instantly, while a personalized driving setup allows drivers to configure key preferences from the moment they get behind the wheel. Enhanced user-friendly interaction with system controls to make frequently used functions, such as heated steering wheel quicker and easier to access, reducing distraction and improving usability.

Adding an extra layer of fun and connectivity, the MY27 introduces new interactive features that bring personality to the driving experience. The playful "Hey Honk" function allows drivers to interact with the car and the world around them through the car's external speakers in a light-hearted way, offering a selection of custom sounds such as "Applause", "Excuse Me" and "Bye Bye". Meanwhile, Game Link enables in-car entertainment when parked by allowing users to cast games to the central display.

"The O2 plays a key role in our portfolio as our fully electric offering in Europe, combining strong driving performance with everyday usability. The Model Year 2027 update brings details that matter to our drivers – improving comfort, responsiveness and the overall in-car experience. It's a natural step in how we continue to refine our products over time, based on real feedback and how people actually use the car. "

Nicolas López Appelgren, CEO of Lynk & Co International.
