

Honest Burgers Launches on Just Eat UK

- Seven* Honest Burgers branches now live on Just Eat across Liverpool, Brighton, Bristol, Cambridge, Cardiff and Manchester, bringing the best of British beef direct to customers' doors.
- A takeaway staple for homes across Britain, last year Just Eat delivered over 50 million burger orders, with Friday beating Saturday for the most popular day for delivery.
- Burgers were one of the original seven food cuisines sold when Just Eat launched twenty years ago. In recent years, the demand for gourmet and smash burgers has rapidly grown with the Honest Burgers menu well-suited for rising customer demand.

Today, Just Eat, the UK's original takeaway delivery platform, is announcing a new partnership with the much-loved British burger brand - Honest Burgers.

Already live in seven locations, 36 more will be launching over the summer covering the entire Honest Burgers estate including the newest sites in Wimbledon, Cabot Circus (Bristol) and Old Brompton Road (South Kensington).

Best of British

Honest Burgers' full menu will be available on Just Eat - homemade British beef burgers made in the Honest butchery served with their signature homemade rosemary chips. Customers can choose from smashed or traditional burgers, along with fried chicken, veggie and vegan options. Honest Burgers focuses on local sourcing and making as much as they can in-house, including their Bacon Gravy, Onion Rings and sauces. Offering customers variety and newness is important to Honest Burgers, with recent menu additions including cheesy chips, corn on the cob, and slider-sized 'Honest Mighties'. Each restaurant also proudly features a 'local special' burger, made in collaboration with nearby food heroes.

Burgers are one of the most popular cuisines on the Just Eat app, and have been for twenty years, with 6pm on Friday night consistently the most popular time to order. Whilst chicken and veggie are both popular the classic beef burger remains the nation's favourite. Last year 50 million burger orders were placed on Just Eat with customer demand rising for more gourmet and globally inspired burgers across both restaurants and retailers.

To mark the launch of Honest Burgers on Just Eat, all orders over £10 will qualify for free delivery until Halloween.

Amy Heather, Commercial Director at Just Eat UK, said: "Every week, thousands of our customers kick off their weekend with a Friday night burger, and now they'll have more choice than ever with Honest Burgers joining Just Eat. From smashed burgers to wings and tenders, it's a menu I know our customers will love. Honest Burgers is a brilliant British success story, and we're excited to continue that growth together."

Emma Sherwood-Smith, Chief Commercial Officer at Honest Burgers, said: "Honest Burgers is excited to expand its delivery partnerships to new platforms including Just Eat."

This builds on our commitment to bringing quality and value to all our current and future customers through an expanded delivery footprint.”

Just Eat works with 100,000 partners in the UK, with other recent brands to join the platform including Joe & The Juice and Banana Tree. Just Eat works collaboratively with all brand partners to support their businesses to grow, giving all partners access to Just Eat’s rapid tech developments. These include robot deliveries and Just Eat’s innovative voice AI, which gives customers the opportunity to discover new brands and cuisines.
