Support for Ukraine: Together, we've donated €2 million!

Earlier this month, we announced the launch of a JET-wide initiative to support those in need of humanitarian aid in Ukraine and neighbouring countries. Today, we're proud to announce that together, we've donated €2 million globally, to help the people affected by the emergency in Ukraine.

Together with our customers, partners and employees, we've donated €2 million globally to charities providing critical aid to those affected by the Ukraine crisis, including UNHCR, the UN Refugee Agency, Unicef and World Central Kitchen.

This total includes the following:

Employee and customer donations, all matched by JET's corporate donation

Donations raised via the 'Donate The Change' programme in the US

Customers converting their loyalty points into cash donations

There is still time to increase our impact by donating via this link until 4 April.

Thank you

A word from our partners

“We are grateful for the generosity and solidarity of Just Eat Takeaway.com and its customers to support people forced to flee from Ukraine. With your contributions, UNHCR is able to stay and deliver on the ground in Ukraine and neighbouring countries to provide safe shelter, essential supplies and protection.”

— Bastiaan Klaassen, Head of Private Sector Partnerships, UNHCR Netherlands

“World Central Kitchen is grateful for JET’s support and belief in our mission. JET shares our belief that a plate of food is more than just nourishment, it’s hope and a sign that someone cares. This support will allow us to continue to provide fresh and comforting meals to Ukrainians fleeing their homes as well as those staying in the country.”

— Jason Collis, VP Relief, World Central Kitchen

“It is estimated that 12 million people, including almost 3 million children, are in urgent need of support in Ukraine and the war continues to escalate. The situation for children is dire but UNICEF is there, working around the clock trying to meet their needs. UNICEF teams are on the ground supplying urgent medical, hygiene, warm clothing and emergency education supplies to as many children and families as we can reach. We are very grateful for Menulog’s generous support. From staff and restaurant partners to customers, your donations are helping UNICEF reach more children at this critical time, thank you for your continued support”

— Libby Hodgson, Chief Marketing Officer, UNICEF Australia
