The Stolen Goat AW21 collection is LIVE!

On your marks... get set... GOAT! Our much anticipated AW21 collection is finally out in the wild, and we can't wait for you to see it.

Ready-for-anything performance meets conversation-starting design and next-level comfort in what might be our favourite autumn/winter collection yet. Mother Nature can do her worst. Jack Frost can nip all the noses he likes. Because rain, wind or bitterly cold – this is next-level kit that makes braving the elements feel easy.

With some ridiculously cool new styles across your favourite Orkaan and Bodyline ranges plus all NEW Climb and Conquer designs coming next month. This is a collection that you will not want to miss.

It's been a rollercoaster ride to get this year's collection to you. The heady combination of Brexit and Covid-19 has certainly caused some fun and games! As Tim explained in his recent blog, supply chain shenanigans have made the road to launching AW21 a little bumpier than usual, with a few more potholes than we would have liked. But with a strong team here at HQ and plenty of support from you wonderful folks – The Herd – we've made it! Thank you for your patience. We hope you love the collection as much as we do...

Orkaan gets even more awesome

Say goodbye to pre-ride wardrobe dilemmas. When the weather can't make up its mind, Orkaan has you covered. Wind-resistant and water-repellent with a cosy lining, our Orkaan collection provides easy, adaptable mix 'n match layering that performs superbly across a wide range of cooler temperatures.

The AW21 collection features awesome new designs across our range of long-sleeved jerseys, short-sleeved jerseys, gilets and arm warmers. Classic stripes, spots or something a bit different. The new editions to our Orkaan collection offer something for everyone.

Be the talk of the peloton in all new Bodyline jerseys

The latest jerseys to join the Bodyline range include some of our coolest designs yet. From bold geometrics and made-to-be-seen brights, to stunning “hey where’d you get that jersey?” graphics. These jerseys give you the perfect combination of ride-all-day comfort and superb performance. Lightweight and breathable, the bodyline jerseys are perfect for Goats living in warmer parts of the world, those chasing the sunshine on mid-winter getaways or simply layering up on an early autumn café ride.

Winter is coming... and Climb & Conquer will be there to help you fight the freeze

It wouldn't be a Stolen Goat Autumn/Winter collection without new Climb and Conquer jackets! Don't worry – we've got some incredible new designs coming your way which will be available next month. Amazing gradient-fades, eye-catching graphic designs and a reincarnation of one of our most-loved and most iconic jerseys yet... yep, you're going to be spoiled for choice!

Awesome accessories

Lightweight full finger gloves for those cool but not cold autumnal days? Check. Cosy Orkaan arm warmers to match some of our favourite new jerseys? Check. Brilliant Bandidos for matchy-matchy layering? Check. New winter caps so you'll never have to suffer the dreaded frozen ears again? Incoming. The Stolen Goat cycling accessories range expands with some excellent new additions for AW21.

With high-tech fabrics and clever design details to keep spirits high when temperatures get low, the latest launch will keep the good rides rolling – all season long. A little goat tells us there may also be a few more exciting things to come, so watch this space and make sure you #JoinTheHerd and sign up for our newsletter to get the latest updates!

Don't forget to tag us in your photos on Instagram when your new kit arrives. Nothing makes us happier than see The Herd wearing SG kit on their adventures!

ABOUT STOLEN GOAT

Stolen Goat was formed in 2012 to bring everyday cyclists a bespoke collection of awesome products to help them get out and enjoy their time on the bike. At the heart of Stolen Goat's mission is the longing to inspire people to get out as often as possible and enjoy the great outdoors, alone or in company, casually or competitively – as long as there is space in life to do more than just stare at a screen all day. As they put it, to encourage people to embrace life and Adventure More. Stolen Goat's cycling kit is the product of that goal – a way to help people into clothing that both looks and feels great while they enjoy their adventures to the max.
