New Stolen Goat SS22 Collection // Out Now!

Stolen Goat have launched their new spring/summer collection, with a vibrant offering of cycling kit, pro-level tri suits and a range of accessories.

The new collection features new designs across the Bodyline, Climbers and Epic ranges. From classic stripes and fresh spring colours, to standout graphic designs and stunning gradient fades this is a collection that will have cyclists and triathletes standing out from the flock this summer.

Ride all day comfort, adventure-ready performance: bold new Bodyline jerseys

Sitting at the heart of the Stolen Goat range, the Bodyline jerseys offer quality, style and performance with no compromise on comfort. Ready for anything, these jerseys are the ultimate all-rounder. From the morning commute to the big days out in the saddle, Bodyline is the go-to choice for all kinds of adventures. The new Lebowski design brings a touch of the tropics to every day rides. Meanwhile graphic prints such as the Waffle – with its bright colours and paint drip effect – are set to be conversation-starters at the Sunday club ride.

Cresting iconic climbs - or just the local Strava segment: ultralightweight Climbers jerseys help you to keep your cool when the heat is on

The sun on your back, fresh air in your lungs and a satisfying burn in your legs as you power up the final kick of a climb. Whether you're heading for the hills or riding out when the heat is on, the super lightweight Climbers range is here to keep you feeling fresh even on the hottest, hilliest days in the saddle. From the cool tones of the Minty and the Skint gradient fade designs, to the stripey Nashville and Scooby – these jerseys are just calling out for a spot of KOM/QOM-hunting.

Down on the drops, the pace is on and you feel... Epic. The Epic range is here to making riding hard feel easy. Designed for speed, tailored for comfort. The Epic jerseys and shorts offer an aerodynamic race fit, that looks great and feels awesome. Stand out from the pack in the ultrabright Jelly design, or activate stealth mode to take the leaders by surprise in the subtle Flint jersey. Racing competitively, or just racing to the café stop – the Epic jerseys are made to go fast.

Swim, bike, run in style: new tri suit designs

Get ready to get noticed in the new for SS22 tri suit designs.

The Stolen Goat tri suits are made from a lightweight, quick-drying fabric with 4-way stretch for a fit that's as comfortable as it is speedy. Add in a water-repellent surface for the non-wetsuit swims, and long Airstripe half sleeves for optimal aerodynamics (saving you the equivalent watts of a disc wheel!) and you'll be flying through the finish line before you know it.

The tri specific chamois pad has been developed in Belgium with pro triathletes and teams to create the perfect balance of comfort on the bike, without getting in the way when you're running. A front zipped torso panel that zips and unzips like a jersey gives you versatility. Two back pockets allow you to carry your nutrition to fuel the fire. Meanwhile active seams stitching ensures maximum freedom of movement and zero chafe – perfect for long course racing.

-ends-

The Stolen Goat SS22 Collection sees the introduction of new designs across the Bodyline, Climbers and Epic jersey ranges, alongside matching accessories. Plus, a range of men's and women's tri suits in 7 new designs – enhancing Stolen Goat's multisport offering, alongside the recently launched Swim collection.

The new collection is available to purchase online now at stolengoat.com, and will soon be available in-store from our growing network of stockists.
