Remote named to Inc. Best Workplaces 2021

We are delighted to announce that Remote has been named to the Inc. Best Workplaces list for 2021!

This year, thousands of companies were considered, with only 429 making the final list of honorees. Each nominated company participated in an employee survey on topics including management effectiveness, perks, and fostering employee growth. In addition to employee feedback, each company also took part in a benefits audit.

“We're thrilled to be named as one of the Inc. Best Workplaces this year,” says Job van der Voort, Remote’s CEO. “We started Remote to make great jobs accessible to more people around the world, and we know we can only accomplish that if our own team feels happy and supported.”

Achieving our mission to connect people and businesses across the globe starts with our own team. As the foremost authority on global employment, Remote has deep knowledge of payroll, benefits, compliance, and employee experiences in dozens of countries around the world. We strive to ensure that everyone who works with Remote — either as one of our own employees, or as an employee of one of our many customers — receives the respect and support they deserve. We will continue to advocate for a more inclusive, people-first future of work.

“The definition of a positive workplace has changed drastically over the past year,” says Inc. editor-in-chief Scott Omelianuk. “So, this year’s list is even more important as it reveals organizations that continue to enrich the lives of its employees amid a pandemic.”

Remote has always been a remote-first organization (and always will be). We believe the best way to compete in a global market is to have a global team. With more than 170 Remoters spread across 40 countries and counting, we know what it takes to provide a great working environment for people from different backgrounds, communities, and time zones.

Earning our spot on the Inc. Best Workplaces 2021 list is a great honor, and we will continue to champion the benefits of global teams.
