

© 28 October 2021, 09:15 (CDT)

An immersive journey through the life and legacy of the Mexican Geniuses: Frida and Diego

A 360-degree digital art exhibition about two of the most inspiring and revolutionary artists of the 20th century, arrives in Washington DC in Spring 2022

Washington DC, October 28th 2021 - Fever, the leading entertainment discovery platform, has announced a never before seen immersive experience, dedicated to the legacy of Frida Kahlo and Diego Rivera.

Mexican Geniuses: A Frida and Diego Immersive Experience will showcase over 300 projections, completely immersing the visitors in the work of two of the most prolific artists of the 20th Century. Using the latest video-mapping technology the artworks and brushstrokes of their more iconic pieces will come to life through this digital exhibit, with pieces ranging from miniature to monumental.

Through innovative technology this unique and mesmerizing exhibition transmits all the beauty, emotion and transcendence of Frida and Diego's works, which continue to make an impact on audiences even today. Discover what lies behind the minds of these two revolutionary Mexican painters as you walk through their art: see their world, their life, their dreams, and everything that influenced them.

This experience which has been co-produced by Fever, who have revolutionized the world of entertainment through immersive experiences such as; Candlelight Concerts, Van Gogh: The Immersive Experience, Stranger Things: The Experience, Money Heist: The Experience amongst many others, will launch in Spring 2022, in both Washington DC and London, UK. The exhibition will take place in a spacious venue with separate galleries and plenty of room to enjoy the experience at your leisure. The exhibition's layout has been thoroughly planned out and is designed with an all-digital, hands-free experience in mind. Further information on the location will be revealed at a later date. Tickets are already on sale on the official website and through Fever, prices will start at $36 for adults and $19.90 for children, with discounts and family passes also available.

Mexican Geniuses : A Frida & Diego Immersive Experience

Press Contact

mexicangeniuses-press@feverup.com

ABOUT FEVER

Fever is the leading global entertainment discovery platform, helping over 60 million people every month to discover the best experiences in their cities. Through its platform, Fever inspires users to enjoy unique local experiences, from immersive exhibitions, interactive theatrical experiences, festivals, to molecular cocktail pop-ups, while collaborating with and empowering event organizers to create new experiences together with our Fever Originals data-driven approach.

Fever