

BetUS Unveils Exclusive Odds for The Traitors

The Traitors* Season 5 is underway, and this NBC show has become a network sensation, with fans all across the country and the world waiting with bated breath for each episode. BetUS offers an extensive novelty section, which currently has odds on all The Traitors cast members for those who like to bet on entertainment.

Season 5 - The Traitors: New Blood

Fans of The Traitors are as loyal as any fanbase in the entertainment industry. But for those who are unfamiliar with NBC's popular new reality program, there is plenty of intrigue and suspense to attract hordes of new viewers this season.

Quite simply, The Traitors is a game of cat-and-mouse, with one group designated as the "Faithful," while the other group, chosen by the host, belongs to the "Traitors." The Faithful don't know who the Traitors are, but each night the Traitors meet in secrecy and must unanimously choose one of the Faithful to eliminate.

Afterwards, all the surviving players, including the unknown Traitors, then meet to decide which contestant is likely a Traitor and should be banished.

If all the Traitors are expelled, those Faithful who are left will share in a cash prize of $250,000. However, should even one Traitor remain, that person would win the grand prize all to themselves.

The Traitors has become NBC's newest version of Must-See TV, and those who miss it on Thursday at 8:00 PM ET can watch it the following day, streaming on Peacock. It's a cerebral contest of mental gymnastics requiring guile, cunning, and deductive reasoning. People can't get enough of The Traitors* episodes, and we understand the appeal.

This is why BetUS has all The Traitors odds on display as one section of our expansive entertainment betting menu. As of this writing, a 44-year-old funeral director from Wantagh, New York, named Joe Vanella is the odds-on favorite to win the contest, but as the show unfolds, the odds will shift, reflecting eliminated opponents and changing perceptions of the contestants.

Although The Traitors has other seasons in which celebrities compete, the average Americans in Season 5 may be unknown, but they are far from boring. Some of the other contestants include Tomica Adams, a Boeing 737 pilot from Boston, and Abby Lee, an astrophysicist from Saint Paul, Minnesota. Several other cast members also have interesting backgrounds, and we have odds on all of them.

BetUS has been a pioneer in online gaming for over 30 years and was the first digital betting platform to dedicate an entire section of its site to novelty and entertainment markets. The Traitors television show is just one entertainment prop being offered at BetUS, and we welcome everyone to explore this unique frontier so they too can appreciate the many markets we serve.

At BetUS, making a bet doesn't have to be confined to a sporting event.
