Send money to 200+ countries and territories directly from the app

The launch reflects growing demand for seamless international financial connectivity as more customers manage cross-border payments for education, healthcare, travel, business, and family support. Since partnering with Wise Platform last year, GoTyme Bank has seen more than 85% increase in unique users of its international payments feature, highlighting strong customer demand for faster, more transparent and affordable ways to move money internationally.

Building on this momentum, GoTyme Bank customers can now send money to more than 200 countries and territories directly from the GoTyme Bank app through the newly launched Send Money Abroad feature. Available through a single, fully digital platform, the service enables global transfers in minutes while providing full visibility into fees, exchange rates, and real-time transfer tracking.

“As our customers become increasingly global in how they live, work, study, and support their families, international banking needs are evolving alongside them,” said

Shern Teo, Chief Strategy & Proposition Officer at GoTyme Bank. “Send Money Abroad is part of our broader commitment to making global financial services more accessible and integrated into the everyday banking experience, allowing customers to manage both local and international transactions seamlessly within one app.”

Samarth Bansal, APAC General Manager at Wise Platform commented: “We’re delighted to be extending our partnership with GoTyme Bank as they continue to build innovative financial solutions for their customers. This launch reflects GoTyme Bank’s commitment to responding to the growing urgency for faster, more transparent and more affordable cross-border payments across the region.
