NICE – CÔTE D'AZUR

At one time a Greek promontory, then a Roman one, later a territory of the Kingdom of Piedmont-Sardinia, a stronghold of the British and Russian aristocracy from the 19th century onwards and the cradle of the New Realists in the 1960s – Nice boasts a fascinating history.

With postcard-perfect features like the Promenade des Anglais, the Cours Saleya and its pastel-coloured old town, the capital of the French Riviera boasts a privileged location between the Mediterranean and the foothills of the Alps. Some thirty kilometres from the Italian border, equidistant from Cannes, the Principality of Monaco and Grasse – the world capital of perfume, Nice is 90 minutes from winter sports resorts and is served by rail, road and an international airport – the country's second-largest, with 107 destinations and 14.5 million passengers a year.

A UNESCO World Heritage Site since 27 July 2021, the city is full of parks and urban gardens, including the Cimiez arena, the castle hill behind the marina and Albert I Gardens in the heart of the Carré d'Or. The modern city is inspired by the Haussmann style and the aptly named Coulée Verte stretches from the Mediterranean to Place Masséna.

Architectural styles range from pretty Niçoise houses to modern buildings and the Belle Époque landmarks that are the envy of the world.

Renowned for gastronomy and entertainment, Nice is a veritable cultural playground with museums including the Chagall, Matisse and Léger as well as the unmissable Musée d'Art Moderne et d'Art Contemporain (MAMAC) with its collections of New Realists such as Yves Klein, Martial Raysse, Jean Tinguely, Niki de Saint Phalle and Jacques Villeglé.

With breathtaking views of the Mediterranean and the mountains from any angle, Nice has inspired Friedrich Nietzsche, Matisse, Pablo Picasso, Edvard Munch, Marc Chagall, Raoul Dufy, Francis Bacon, Arman, César and François Truffaut. Home to one of the world's most famous carnivals and a renowned Jazz Festival, Nice combines art and joy with everyday life.

Sports enthusiasts love the Ironman – the world's secondlargest, the Allianz Riviera – the stadium hosting the 2023 Rugby World Cup and the 2024 Olympic Games, and flocked here to stand on the finish line of the Tour de France 2024. It's little wonder visitors continue to make their way to Nice, the jewel of the French Riviera, for unforgettable stays.
