

Designed for Gatherings, Made for Moments

Set on a peninsula between the Kalu Ganga lagoon and the Indian Ocean, Avani Kalutara Resort offers a distinctive setting for meetings, destination weddings, corporate gatherings and celebrations on Sri Lanka's west coast. Combining a flexible indoor ballroom with beach and garden settings, the resort gives planners and couples the freedom to shape events around the occasion, while Avani's laid-back personality brings a more relaxed sense of place to every gathering.

At the heart of the resort's indoor event offering is the Ganga Ballroom, a versatile venue that can be used as one larger space or divided into two separate sections to suit different event formats. When divided, Ballroom 1 spans 308 square metres and accommodates up to 160 guests cocktail-style, while Ballroom 2 offers 324 square metres and accommodates up to 140 guests cocktail-style. The flexible configuration lends itself to conferences, meetings, training sessions, gala dinners, banquets, wedding receptions and private celebrations.

For destination weddings, the experience extends beyond the ballroom. Couples can choose from celebrations indoors or exchange vows against the natural backdrop of the resort's beach and tropical garden settings, before moving into cocktails, dinner and an evening celebration. Surrounded by the lagoon, ocean and tropical landscapes, Avani Kalutara offers the flexibility to create different moments across the wedding journey, from intimate ceremonies to larger receptions and multi-day celebrations.

With 105 rooms, suites and private pool suites, wedding parties and guests can stay together within the resort, turning the occasion into a relaxed west coast getaway. Pre-wedding gatherings, family time by the pool, private dining and post-wedding moments can all become part of the wider celebration, allowing couples to create more than simply a ceremony and reception.

For corporate groups, the same flexibility allows programmes to move naturally beyond the meeting room. Tailored catering can complement formal sessions, while experiences including lagoon kayaking, watersports and the Glider Adventure Tower can be incorporated into team stays. Poolside moments, lagoon side drinks and relaxed dining offer easy opportunities for delegates to reconnect once the formal programme is over.
