Tivoli Avenida Liberdade Lisbon Unveils Its Reimagined Rooms and Suites

A refined design intervention inspired by the hotel's architectural heritage is now revealed across rooms and suites.

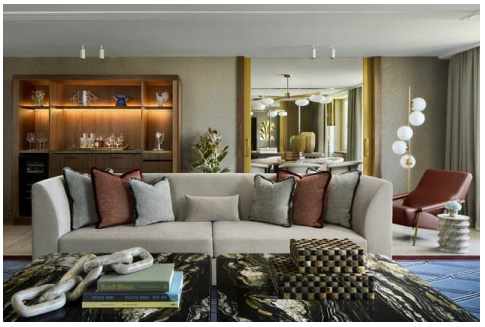

Tivoli Avenida Liberdade, Lisbon’s iconic luxury hotel since 1933, introduces a new expression of contemporary elegance with the unveiling of its remodelled Rooms and Suites. Rooted in the hotel’s architectural heritage and inspired by the spirit of Lisbon, this marks a significant new chapter for one of the city’s most distinguished addresses.

Developed by Rodrigo Izquierdo Studio, the intervention reinterprets Tivoli Avenida Liberdade’s legacy through a refined language of Portuguese craftsmanship, noble materials and understated residential comfort. Drawing inspiration from the hotel’s architectural identity — including the modernist influence introduced by Portuguese architect Porfírio Pardal Monteiro in 1955 — the redesigned spaces create a sophisticated dialogue between history and contemporary luxury.

The new interiors are defined by the bespoke “Lisbon Flair” palette: soft blues evoking traditional tiles, gentle greens inspired by the tree-lined Avenida da Liberdade and warm terracotta tones reminiscent of the city’s rooftops. Across the rooms, suites and corridors, solid wood, natural stone, brass, iron, curated artworks and bespoke furnishings shape an atmosphere that feels elegant, intimate and distinctly connected to Lisbon.

Throughout the redesigned rooms and suites, subtle references to the hotel’s heritage reinforce Tivoli Avenida Liberdade’s enduring relationship with Portuguese art and culture. A contemporary textile artwork reinterprets Sintra, the celebrated tapestry created by Mily Possoz for the Portalegre Tapestry Manufacture, while carpets inspired by the geometries of the hotel’s façade and gold medallions recalling the property’s original 1930s key fobs create a refined conversation between past and present. Decorative objects and ceramics curated by Felipa Almeida, together with works by Portuguese artists, add a distinctly local and artistic character. Bathrooms feature luxury amenities by the Portuguese brand Claus Porto in the fresh Citron Verbena fragrance, enhancing the sensory dimension of the stay and evoking the energy and freshness of a Lisbon morning.

Also recently renovated, Cervejaria Liberdade, one of the hotel’s signature dining venues, has preserved its historic grandeur while unveiling a more contemporary and sophisticated aesthetic. Here, authentic Portuguese flavours are served in an elegant setting defined by soaring ceilings and large windows overlooking the iconic Avenida da Liberdade. Led by Chef Miguel Silva, the restaurant celebrates the finest seasonal ingredients from both sea and land, honouring the traditions of a classic Lisbon cervejaria while bringing a fresh perspective to timeless recipes. The menu showcases the freshest fish and seafood sourced from the Portuguese coast, offering a sophisticated yet genuine taste of Portugal.

Among the hotel's latest enhancements, is the recently opened wine store on the 9th floor - the 1933 Wine & Spirits Collection by Cellar 47. Designed around a premium, immersive concept, the new space offers a carefully curated selection of rare wines, special vintages and fine spirits, overseen by award-winning sommelier Jorge Silva. Through its partnership with Cellar 47, guests can discover exclusive international references alongside outstanding Portuguese producers, complemented by personalised recommendations, private tastings, masterclasses and bespoke wine experiences.

Tivoli Avenida Liberdade is the flagship of the Tivoli brand and the hotel where its story began 93 years ago. Today, it remains Lisbon's benchmark for luxury hospitality, an enduring symbol of elegance and sophistication that has welcomed world leaders, celebrities and cultural icons, from Maria Callas and Charles Aznavour to Neil Armstrong and Mario Vargas Llosa. This design intervention reflects a new vision of smart luxury for the property: authentic, refined and deeply connected to its destination.

Tivoli Hotels & Resorts' portfolio spans 22 properties across the globe, including eight hotels in Portugal, stretching from the north of the country to the south, four properties in Italy and four in the Middle East. Among its latest additions are the recently opened Tivoli Kopke Porto Gaia, in Portugal, Tivoli Palazzo 1880 Lecce, in Italy, and Tivoli La Vie Muscat, in Oman.
