Montréal, July 9, 2026 — Warner Bros. Discovery Global Experiences and Fever, the world's leading tech platform for discovering culture and live entertainment, are proud to announce that DroneArt Show: Harry Potter™, a first-of-its-kind open-air drone spectacle is coming to Montréal as part of its international tour and in celebration of 25 Years of Magic.

Taking place at Jacques-Cartier Pier, Old Port of Montreal, this show will blend advanced drone choreography with the unforgettable music and iconic moments from the Harry Potter film series, featuring 1,200 illuminated drones soaring across the night sky. As darkness falls, audiences will witness a live violinist and a stunning canvas of light as memorable moments from the films are reimagined through breathtaking aerial displays set to the iconic soundtrack and dialogue from the films. As part of the experience, attendees will also wear LED wristbands that allow them to interact further with the magic of the performance.

As part of the global tour across America, United Kingdom and Europe, select cities will host this large-scale drone spectacle inviting wizards, witches and Muggles to celebrate the beloved film series. In Montréal, audiences can also enjoy a celebratory pre-show atmosphere, including food and beverage offerings, and Harry Potter™ merchandise.
