Media Kit - NH Collection Madrid Gran Vía

The hotel

The NH Collection Madrid Gran Vía, with its unbeatable views, is located on the street from which it takes its name, one of the city's best known avenues. It occupies a centennial neo-baroque building inspired by American architectural trends, the work of two excellent architects, Julio Martínez Zapata and José López Sallaberry.

During their stay, guests can take in what is known as Spain's Broadway, the other name for the Gran Vía, thanks to the high number of shows to be seen along its 1.36 kilometres. The hotel is also just a few metres from Puerta del Sol, the city's literal centre and hub, and one of the world's most prestigious museums: the Prado. It is close to the lively Malasaña and Chueca districts.

Services and facilities

The hotel has 94 rooms decorated in stylish shades of grey and beige. It has superior, premium and family rooms, as well as junior suites. Guests can choose to overlook the Gran Vía for an even more extraordinary stay.

The hotel's services include its terrace with amazing views of the city, which can also be rented for private events. The property has a dedicated Guest Relations Manager whose mission is to help its guests with anything they might need.

Food and drink

The hotel has designed a very exclusive gastronomic offering to please the most exquisite palates. To start the day with a healthy and balanced meal, the hotel lays out a buffet breakfast with a wide variety of freshly-squeezed juices, pastries, cheese, fruit, yoghurt, breads and a range of Spanish cold meats, among other options. Guests can also order their favourite hot dishes.

For later in the day, the NH Collection Madrid Gran Vía is home to the famous Picalagartos Sky Bar & Restaurant, which specialises in Mediterranean cuisine, under the leadership of chef Manuel Berganza. The restaurant's name is inspired by the tavern of the same name in the play, Bohemian Lights, by Valle-Inclán. The restaurant teams a wide variety of traditionally-flavoured dishes with some of the best views of the city. Its keynote creations include fresh burrata with Idiazábal pesto, cherry tomatoes and toast, a rib of roasted lamb with mint and Padrón peppers and house specials like the gildas, an olive and anchovy skewer, or a glass of vermouth.

After a fine meal steeped in Mediterranean traditions, guests can move to the eighth-floor or rooftop bars, which go by the same name as the restaurant, for a signature cocktail. The extensive drinks menu, designed by the mixologist, Luca Anastasio, also includes the perfect gin and tonic and a selection of classic Spanish Sherry wines, such as Fino and Oloroso.
