Hotel

In the vibrant heart of Turin, NH Collection Torino Santo Stefano is located in the historic Quadrilatero Romano, once known as Santo Stefano. Often referred to as the “Little Paris” of Italy for its neoclassical architecture and charming squares, Turin finds in this hotel a benchmark for style and excellence. Built between 2004 and 2006, the 8,000 m² property occupies a prime corner between Porta Palatina and Via della Basilica, and is part of a joint project by renowned architecture firms Fusari and Gabetti & Isola, blending past and present in a striking architectural balance.

Services and facilities

Upon arrival, guests are welcomed into a dramatic entrance hall, dominated by an elegant wooden staircase that runs vertically through the building, giving the entire structure its distinctive character. This architectural feature draws the eye upward through all four floors of the hotel, culminating in the top level, which offers sweeping views of ancient Roman ruins, the Turin skyline, and – in the distance – the majestic peaks of the Alps.

The hotel's 134 soundproofed rooms provide an intimate and relaxing atmosphere. From Superior and Family Rooms to Premium and Suites, each space combines refined style with a welcoming ambience, paying attention to the smallest details to ensure both comfort and functionality.

Gastronomy

La Pista Bistrot celebrates Piedmontese cuisine with a traditional yet creative menu featuring dishes full of personality. The offering highlights the region's finest local ingredients – from meats to game – telling the story of Piedmont in every bite.

The dessert menu is crafted by pastry chef Evi Polliotto from Gerla 1927. A signature creation is her Monviso Cake, inspired by the 2018 edition of Cake Star on Real Time. Made with hazelnuts, the dessert is a tribute to the "King of Stone," Mount Monviso – the symbolic peak of Piedmont at 3,841 metres and the source of the River Po.
