The hotel

NH Paris Gare de l'Est, located in the 10th arrondissement, enjoys a strategic setting that makes it ideal for discovering the city thanks to its excellent connections to major railway stations and transport links. Situated opposite the historic Gare de l'Est, one of Paris's oldest and most iconic stations renowned for its 19th-century architecture the hotel shares the same spirit of travel that has shaped its history, notably since the legendary Orient Express departed from here in 1883 bound for Eastern Europe. Gare du Nord is also just a few minutes away, making the hotel an ideal choice both for urban travellers and for those wishing to move easily throughout Europe.

For those who prefer to explore the city on foot, the surrounding area offers a perfect combination of authentic spots and major cultural landmarks. Just a short distance away are charming places such as Jardin Villemin, the lively Passage Brady, and the churches of Saint-Vincent-de-Paul and Saint-Laurent. Likewise, a pleasant walk of around thirty minutes leads to must-see attractions such as the Palais Garnier, the Centre Pompidou, or the Sacré-Cœur Basilica, allowing guests to enjoy the city's unique atmosphere along the way.

The hotel occupies a classic 19th-century Haussmann-style building that combines the charm of Parisian architecture with fully renovated interiors adapted to modern needs. Its prime location and cosmopolitan character make it an ideal starting point for exploring the city's main tourist attractions and its most vibrant neighbourhoods.
