

MEDIA KIT - NH MADRID NACIONAL

The Hotel

NH Madrid Nacional, housed in a beautiful 1920s building designed by the architect Modesto López Otero, enjoys a central location on one of Madrid's most prestigious avenues, Paseo del Prado. The third oldest hotel in the city combines the weight and distinction of a hotel with solera with the needs of current travelers. It maintains elements as representative as the façade, the large staircase or the marble floors intact.

The modernity of its facilities can fool them, it is one of the longest in the city of Madrid, built in the early twentieth century. A hotel that, throughout its history, has witnessed adverse periods and recoveries in which its hospitality and generosity have always contributed to building confidence in visitors to the capital.

This centenary hotel writes part of Madrid's biography, thanks to its legacy and its central location on one of the most prestigious avenues, the Paseo del Prado, in the middle of the Art Triangle, where there are three famous art museums, such as the Prado, the Thyssen-Bornemisza and the Reina Sofia. A unique proposal that combines culture, nature, art and architecture from the 16th century Madrid to today's Madrid.

During your stay, stroll along the lush Paseo del Prado, through the emblematic Parque del Buen Retiro and its surroundings. Its 206 rooms are decorated in a style that combines classical and contemporary touches, among which are the superior and junior suites, some of which offer unparalleled views of Atocha Square and its fountains or the Royal Botanical Garden. With a striking staircase in its hall the building is considered one of the most attractive in the city.

Gastronomic proposal

The hotel's gastronomic proposal focuses on the Tablafina restaurant, a space where you can taste a menu based on quality products with designation of origin and enjoy classic tapas with a marked influence of the city such as potato bravas, a typical squid sandwich or Tablafina tortilla, among others. Tablafina is based on the fundamental pillars of Spanish quality product upholstery: cans, chacins and cheeses, without forgetting the tapas made in kitchen, classic, in small portions. It has a table area, a bar and a display of cheeses and wines.

Located on the access floor from the street, this restaurant is a comfortable, informal space, where you can have both a coffee and a glass of wine. A menu that connects with nature and the local product with an exclusive selection of seasonal products and designation of origin with which to become a gastronomic reference bar.

A place where you can enjoy a good wine with quality tapas such as cheeses, sausages and preserves that complete this space and immerse you in the authentic gastronomy of Madrid.

The offer of Tablafina consists of a selection of Iberian ham, proposals served in tin, a selection of cheeses by the hand of Abel Valverde, sausages, classic recipes, creams and fried and a selection of large tapas and small servings.

As well as a sweet proposal. In short, all this gets Tablafina to become a space where the product is the great protagonist.
