What's In A Name?

- The name "Bangkok" comes from the Thai words "Bang" and "Ko(k)." Originally, "Bang" referred to a village or settlement along a river or waterway, and "Ko(k)" could mean "island" or "wild plum" tree. Thus, Bangkok likely referred to a "village on the river with wild plum trees." In its early days, Bangkok was a small trading post on the banks of the Chao Phraya River. However, the full ceremonial name of Bangkok is much longer and is actually recorded in the Guinness World Records as the longest place name in the world. This ceremonial name is: "Krung Thep Maha Nakhon Amon Rattanakosin Mahinthara Ayuthaya Mahadilok Phop Noppharat Ratchathani Burirom Udomratchaniwet Mahasathan Amon Piman Awatan Sathit Sakkathattiya Witsanukam Prasit," which translates roughly to "City of Angels, Great City of Immortals, Magnificent City of the Nine Gems, Seat of the King, City of Royal Palaces, Home of the Gods Incarnate, Erected by Vishvakarman at Indra's Behest." Locally, Thai people refer to Bangkok as Krung Thep Maha Nakhon or simply Krung Thep, meaning the "City of Angels."
 - "Siam" is the former name of Thailand, and it holds historical and cultural significance. The name "Siam" persisted until 1939, when the country officially changed its name to "Thailand" (Prathet Thai), which means "Land of the Free."

Signature Cultural Experiences

Chao Phraya River

Daily

5-minute walk

The Chao Phraya River is one of Thailand's most iconic natural landmarks, flowing through the heart of Bangkok and several other provinces in central Thailand. Known as the "River of Kings," it plays a significant role in Thai culture, history, and daily life. The river is essential to the country's trade, transport, and livelihood, and it has been a central feature of Bangkok's development for centuries.

The Grand Palace

Daily

30-minute drive

AVANI+

Bangkok

The Grand Palace in Bangkok is one of Thailand's most iconic and culturally significant landmarks. This majestic complex, originally constructed in 1782 during the reign of King Rama I, has served as the official residence of the Thai monarchy for over 150 years. It is a stunning example of traditional Thai architecture and a center of Thai culture, royal history, and religion.

Jim Thompson House

Daily: 10am-5pm

30-minute drive

The Jim Thompson House is a unique museum and one of Bangkok's most beloved cultural landmarks. It was the former home of Jim Thompson, an American businessman and architect who is credited with reviving the Thai silk industry in the mid-20th century. The house itself is a beautiful example of traditional Thai architecture, and the museum offers insight into both Thompson's life and the rich heritage of Thai craftsmanship.

Asiatique

Daily: 11:00 am- 12:00 am

7-minute drive

Asiatique The Riverfront is a popular open-air shopping, dining, and entertainment complex located along the banks of the Chao Phraya River in Bangkok. It boasts over 1,500 boutiques offering everything from clothing and souvenirs to handicrafts, making it a great place for a spot of shopping.

ICONSIAM

Daily: 10:00 am- 10:00 pm

7-minute drive

ICONSIAM is one of Bangkok's best malls, featuring more than 500 stores with a mix of international luxury brands, high-street fashion, and premium local boutiques. SookSiam is a unique space within ICONSIAM dedicated to Thailand's diverse culture, traditions, and regional specialties. The area resembles a traditional Thai market, with stalls representing all four regions of Thailand. SookSiam on the ground floor offers a variety of Thai street foods, regional specialties, handcrafted goods, and souvenirs, making it a go-to spot for an authentic Thai experience without leaving Bangkok.

Riverside Plaza

Daily: 10:00 am- 10:00 pm

5-minute walk

Connected to the Avani+ Riverside Bangkok Hotel. Riverside Plaza offers a relaxed, upscale atmosphere with a good mix of shopping, dining, and scenic views of the Chao Phraya River.

Wat Pho

Daily: 8:00 am- 6:30 pm

25-minute drive

Wat Pho, also known as the Temple of the Reclining Buddha, is one of Bangkok's oldest and most significant temples, famous for its enormous reclining Buddha statue, stunning architecture, and role as a center of traditional Thai massage and medicine. Located near the Grand Palace and covering over 80,000 square meters, the main attraction at Wat Pho is the massive reclining Buddha statue, which measures 46 meters (151 feet) long and 15 meters (49 feet) high. The statue represents Buddha entering Nirvana, symbolizing the end of his reincarnations. The statue is covered in gold leaf, and its feet are inlaid with intricate mother-of-pearl patterns that depict 108 auspicious symbols of Buddha, including flowers, dancers, and mythical creatures.

AVANI+

Bangkok

Wat Arun

Daily: 8:00 am- 6:30 pm

18-minute drive

Wat Arun, also known as the Temple of Dawn, is one of Bangkok's most iconic and picturesque temples, located on the west bank of the Chao Phraya River. Known for its striking riverside setting and central prang (tower), Wat Arun is especially beautiful at sunrise and sunset when the temple is illuminated in warm, golden light. Wat Arun is named after Aruna, the Hindu god of dawn. The temple's design is meant to symbolize Mount Meru, the center of the universe in Buddhist cosmology, with the prang representing this sacred mountain.

Meetings, Events and Weddings

Avani+ Riverside Bangkok Hotel offers the right space for every event making it one of the most iconic and most versatile locations in Bangkok and Asia. The impressive meeting and event facilities boast 4,500 sqm of inspiring multipurpose space.
