PALAZZO NAIADI ROME
HOTEL

Unforgettable stays
in the eternal city

Welcome to Anantara Palazzo Naiadi Rome Hotel

Immersed in the splendour of ancient Rome, Anantara Palazzo Naiadi, a member of The Leading Hotels of the World, is located in the heart of Piazza della Repubblica and boasts a fascinating architectural history with original elements commissioned by Pope Clement XI for the Vatican in 1705.

The building overlooks the imposing Fountain of the Naiads, from which the hotel takes its name, and stands on the ancient Baths of Diocletian, whose foundations, pools and mosaics are visible from the lower floor through clear glass floors.

Location

Built over the ancient Diocletian Thermal Baths, dating from AD 298 to AD 306, Anantara Palazzo Naiadi Rome Hotel enjoys a conveniently central vantage point in the city, just a 40-minute drive from Fiumicino International Airport.

This neoclassical palace is a stone's throw from the railway and subway stations and walking distance from Rome's most iconic attractions, including the Colosseum and Fontana di Trevi.

With its distinctive crescent shape embracing Piazza della Repubblica, Anantara Palazzo Naiadi Rome Hotel invites guests to immerse in the historic charms of this vibrant city and discover its authentic hidden secrets.

History

Standing on the site that was home to Ancient Rome's most important meeting place, Anantara Palazzo Naiadi Rome Hotel boasts a long and fascinating history.

Originally designed and built by the architect Gaetano Koch between 1887 and 1898, the hotel's current structure was then redesigned by Maurizio Papiri, who, in the 2000s, redefined it as a luxury hotel. Finally, in 2022, the TBC Interiorismo studio led a complete renovation on behalf of Anantara, giving new life to the iconic Roman palace.

SUSPENDED OVER THE REMAINS OF THE BATHS OF DIOCLETIAN

The hotel's building stands upon and follows the shape of the historic exedra where the Baths of Diocletian stood. The remains of this iconic gathering place are visible through the glass floor on level -1.

AN ANCIENT GRANARY INSIDE A HOTEL

The hotel's fourth floor, called Clementino Wing, is home to an ancient grain store, built in 1705 by the architect Fontana by order of Pope Clement XI to store the public grain.

MARIO SIRONI'S MASTERPIECE

The hotel's entrance is home to a masterpiece by artist Mario Sironi. "La Geografia" is the preparatory sketch for the mural "Italy between the Arts and Sciences" in the Aula Magna at the University of Rome La Sapienza.

Accommodation

Retreat to a peaceful haven in Rome's city centre, facing Michelangelo's ancient Basilica of Santa Maria degli Angeli. The 232 rooms and suites at Anantara Palazzo Naiadi blend old-world glamour with modern amenities and exclusive Anantara touches.

Elegant rooms and contemporary suites boast neoclassical style with silk wall hangings and accents of gilt and bronze. Unwind and experience Rome from a unique and authentic perspective.
