NH Collection Venezia Murano Villa

Hotel

NH Collection Murano Villa is located in the historic glass factory, better known as the 'Fornace De Majo', situated on the island of Murano, in the beautiful lagoon of Venice. The four-star boutique hotel, just a few metres from the Glass Museum, is the perfect location for those seeking a relaxing and peaceful place, far from the hustle and bustle of the city of Venice, but only a short boat ride away from its main attractions.

This luxury hotel preserves the original building of the old factory, enhancing its architecture: the location, in fact, reproduces the environment of the glassworks in an innovative way, thanks to technological solutions that make it comfortable and unique for guests. The original chimney of the glass furnace and exposed bricks have been preserved as a tribute to the building's history. Inside the hotel, artworks and testimonies related to the artistic production of glass are preserved as a tribute to the building's history and displayed throughout an exhibition itinerary designed to make them accessible and enjoyable as a museum experience not only to hotel guests.

The hotel offers the possibility to visit the Lagoon and the magnificent city of Venice, by organising vaporetto rides to the mainland and sensational guided tours.

From the central courtyard of NH Collection Murano Villa, guests have direct access the public park of the Navagero, which offers a large green space and a play area for children. An evocative private pier, typical of the Venetian tradition, also offers a unique view over the lagoon and provides a convenient mooring for boats and other transports.

The hotel also features a gym on the ground floor, open 24 hours a day and fully equipped for an invigorating workout, and a spa on the first floor, where guests can relax after a busy day of shopping or sightseeing. With its sauna and treatment rooms, the spa is one of the hotel's most appreciated services, providing wellness enthusiasts with the opportunity to indulge in some self-care.
