

The Jury Experience: A Courtroom Drama Where the Audience Decides the Verdict

Blending live theatre, ethical dilemmas, and audience participation, The Jury Experience casts spectators as jurors, inviting them to examine the evidence, deliberate, and decide the outcome of a trial

Created by Fever, the world's leading tech platform for discovering culture and live entertainment, The Jury Experience is a gripping live theatrical show that places the audience at the centre of a dramatic trial. This compelling experience transforms audiences into jurors in a 60-minute courtroom simulation.

Set in a carefully crafted courtroom space inspired by the American legal system, the production blurs the boundaries between performance and reality. The audience is not simply watching events unfold; they are part of the proceedings. Through witness testimonies, cross-examinations, and the careful weighing of evidence, they must collectively determine the accused's fate.

Each session offers a singular experience where moral certainty is elusive and perspectives collide. The audience's decisions influence how the story develops in real time, building toward a climactic final vote: guilty or innocent. With stakes high and emotions heightened, the tension in the room is palpable. The Jury Experience reimagines the live show format by combining interactivity, narrative depth, and emotional intensity into an unforgettable experience.

Where Theatre Meets Justice

Performed by a cast of professional actors, The Jury Experience recreates the atmosphere and intensity of a real courtroom. Because the verdict is decided by the audience, no two performances are ever the same. Every trial is shaped by the collective judgment of those in attendance, making each experience truly unique.

Whether exploring the implications of emerging technologies, personal responsibility, or questions of justice, every case encourages audiences to consider different perspectives before reaching their own conclusion.

Cases That Challenge Perspectives

Designed for theatre lovers, true crime enthusiasts, and anyone looking for an engaging live experience, The Jury Experience extends beyond the courtroom.

The Jury Experience offers more than entertainment; it is designed to spark meaningful dialogue. Whether attended with friends, family, or a partner, this immersive courtroom experience invites audiences to reflect on complex moral questions and explore differing viewpoints. With its emotionally charged atmosphere and compelling narrative, it provides an ideal setting for post-show discussion, making it a memorable shared experience for a wide range of audiences.
