Gecko V is a model designed to support new climbers and it introduces the new progression line. The wider shape provides immediate unmatched comfort, while a slight downturn promotes proper foot positioning. A structured midsole and S78 outsole deliver support, grip and durability indoors and on rock.

NEW PROGRESSION LAST

A new last with a wider, roomier toe area for immediate comfort, combined with a slight curvature that naturally guides toe positioning and helps newcomers develop confident footwork from their first climbs.

FULL MICROFIBER UPPER CONSTRUCTION WITH PADDED HEEL

The Yin Yang design bonds two microfiber panels, minimizing seams and pressure points combined with the padded heel ensures secure wrapping and enhances comfort. This delivers a soft, comfortable feel that supports long climbing sessions.

S78 RUBBER COMPOUND

S78 is a versatile compound that balances grip, durability and edging support, providing reliable performance on both indoor walls and rock.

Target

Indoor-first climbers, from beginner to early-intermediate level, who climb for fun, community and for fitness and are building consistency rather than chasing grades.

New explorer that are willing to try outdoor rock climbing. It may be their first shoe after wearing rentals.
