SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (July 2, 2012) – Squier announces several new models to its acclaimed VINTAGE MODIFIED series, including Squier takes on five classic Fender guitar designs.

For the first time ever, Squier introduces a VINTAGE MODIFIED TELECASTER® DELUXE guitar armed with all-new Fender-designed Wide Range humbucking pickups. An acclaimed and time-honored innovation, the Wide Range humbucking pickup delivers incredibly full tone and lends even more vintage-style authenticity to this new model. Other features include a C-shaped maple neck with vintage-tint gloss finish, 12"-radius maple fingerboard with 21 medium jumbo frets and black dot position inlays, three-way toggle pickup switching, four black skirted amp knobs (two volume, two tone), string-through-body bridge with six stamped saddles, and vintage-style chrome tuners.

The Squier VINTAGE MODIFIED TELECASTER CUSTOM guitar pairs a Wide Range humbucking neck pickup with a sharp, clear Duncan Designed TE-101B single-coil bridge pickup. An authentically styled Jazzmaster® now joins the Vintage Modified family, with present-day touches including full, clear Duncan Designed pickups and a modern fingerboard radius. Squier's new VINTAGE MODIFIED JAZZMASTER guitar has the model's most distinctive hallmarks, too – such as the dual-circuit switching and controls, floating-vibrato bridge and classically colorful finishes.

The VINTAGE MODIFIED JAGUAR® also sports Duncan Designed pickups and a modern fingerboard radius, and features the Jaguar's short 24" scale, dual-circuit switching and controls, floating-vibrato bridge and vintage colors.
